

FORBES KNOCKED OUT DAUGHERTY.

Right Hook to Jaw in the Fourth Round Won Battle at West End Club.

FIGHT WAS FAST THROUGHOUT.

Occasion Was Second Meeting of the Men, and Forbes Secured His Second Victory Over Daugherty.

For the second time within two months Danny Daugherty, the bantam boxer, went down to defeat before Harry Forbes at the West End Club last night, a right hook to the jaw putting Daugherty down and out on the fourth round of the fastest bouts ever witnessed at the club.

The men fought breaking clean from clinches. From start to finish the bout was fast and hard, the men both fighting aggressive battles and mixing freely, each landing telling blows on his opponent. At the close of the fourth round, while the men were fighting hard near Daugherty's corner, Forbes sent in a left hook, which missed, following it up immediately with a terrific right hook to the jaw. Daugherty fell on his face and was carried senseless to his corner, completely knocked out.

In the first round, the bout lasted it was either man's battle, both being fresh and aggressive at the time when the blow landed. Daugherty showed great skill in ducking and countering, getting in some punches on Forbes, who landed the latter considerably, and receiving many hard blows in return. In the second round a light left to Daugherty's mouth overbalanced him and sent him to the floor, but he instantly arose, and for the first two rounds, honors were even.

In the third round Forbes landed slightly the more telling blows, getting in punches to the stomach and hooks to the jaw which shook Daugherty badly. In the fourth round Forbes landed hard right and left swings and hooks, receiving a hard right swing on the head which sent him straight out and returned with the blow which stretched Daugherty senseless on the floor.

Young Corbett was at the ringside, and pronounced the bout one of the best fights he ever had witnessed.

Cleaver fought a clever battle throughout, and the exhibition of slipping and dodging was of the highest order. Daugherty got in several slight punches in the course of the bout, while Forbes landed himself to victory hooks and swings for the most part. At several stages of the fight he had Daugherty on his feet, and he later always came back fresh and smiling. The men were to fight at 115 pounds, and both made the weight.

Daugherty was seconded by Trainer Charles Mayhew, by Pat Early and D. Brown, while in Forbes' corner were Dan Hogan, F. Whitman and C. Fitzgerald. Joe Stewart was referee.

Daugherty was the first blow of the fight, landing a left jab on Forbes' mouth after he had feinted and fiddled for a moment. Both men were aggressive and vicious, and both responded to the other's leads by savage counter, which were nearly decided for the bout. Forbes landed a strong punch by Forbes was the first telling blow of the fight, while in a hot mix-up which followed each got in good blows on the other's jaw.

Forbes got in three hard hooks to the jaw, which shook Daugherty badly, and the round closed with the men fighting rapidly in the center of the ring. Forbes landed a hard right and left hook, which landed Daugherty nearly senseless, which left uppercut to the stomach, and Daugherty ducked and dodged, and the round closed with Forbes leading. Both men got in light jabs with counters following. Toward the close of the round Forbes landed a hard right hook on Daugherty's face as the latter ducked, sending him to the floor. He jumped up immediately, and the round closed with the men fighting.

In the third round Daugherty missed a punch. In return, Forbes landed a hard right hook, which missed Daugherty's chin. Daugherty got in a hard blow between the eyes and the hook to the jaw, which shook Forbes, apparently disconcerting the latter. Forbes shook him up with a right hook, which landed on the jaw, and the men exchanged rights and lefts to face and stomach. Several of the blows were parried, and the round closed with the men fighting.

Features of the match were the aggressive tactics displayed by both men and the hard blows which were sent in when ever occasion offered. In commenting on the knock-out blow, Young Corbett said: "It was a clean knock-out, after a pretty and fast fight. To me it seemed that Forbes missed, either as a feint or unintentionally, when he landed the right hook, immediately afterwards sending in a right hook with all the weight of his body behind it."

Corbett was introduced from the ring before the bout, and was applauded by the crowd. He was the first to say anything, saying any but yet held at the club was present.

The blow which knocked Daugherty out was delivered by Forbes with his right elbow in the air, and was between a punch and a hook in the last corner. He knocked Daugherty out in the second round with a right hook to the jaw, the blow starting from near his waist, and in a six-round preliminary, Jack Keefe of St. Louis got the decision over Daugherty.

Challenges to the winner of the contest were received from Austin Rice and from Tom Quigley and were read from the ring.
